Embed This TeachingBooks.net Search Box

Promote TeachingBooks and instantly enable everyone in your school to find materials about the books and authors they are reading. You can easily embed this search box anywhere, including the following:

- Your website
- Your blog or wiki
- Your OPAC
- Your online catalog of databases

... or wherever your students and colleagues look for electronic materials.

To add this helpful search tool, see the following webpage: <http://Teachingbooks.net/Widget>.

Attention ELA and Reading Teachers: Meet Authors in the Moment

Did you know that TeachingBooks strives for every reader to learn directly from the authors of the books they are reading? Encourage all of your teachers to enter the author or title of the book they are reading in our search box ... and voila—enjoy multimedia materials that will bring the book to life!

And, if there are authors you want us to include in our database, please ask!

Welcome New TeachingBooks Team Members

Three librarians have recently joined TeachingBooks to help support your license and expand our multimedia offerings. We are delighted to welcome Nathan R. Johnson (Director of Digital Technologies), and Amanda Kramer and Darcie Johnston (Educational Outreach Coordinators). See our About page to learn about them and hear their name pronunciations.

This Month's "What's New Webinar": Ready-to-Use State Associated Reading Lists

TeachingBooks takes your state reading lists and puts all of the online resources that support the titles and authors into one easy-to-use place. You can see them featured in the lower left corner of the TeachingBooks home page.

Please invite all of your colleagues who use these reading lists to join us on Tuesday, October 19th, when Nick Glass, TeachingBooks' Founder, leads a five-minute presentation on these multimedia collections. After the short presentation, feel free to participate in a phone Q&A.

Tuesday, October 19th: 1:00 p.m. Eastern Time, 10:00 a.m. Pacific Time

All you need to do is go to: <http://www.TeachingBooks.net/MonthlyWebinar>

If you can't make this month's webinar, watch the recording we'll distribute after the webinar. Please see the rest of the fall schedule at: <http://TeachingBooks.net/WhatsNewWebinar>
